WHOOP Coach is a feature powered by generative AI that delivers personalized health and fitness coaching on demand by analyzing your unique biometric data, goals, and behaviors.

It provides conversational, in-the-moment answers to your questions. Ask anything from "How should I train for a 5k?" to "Why am I so tired?" and receive specific, actionable guidance based on your body's data.

"There's been a lot of hype about the promise of AI," said Will Ahmed, Founder & CEO of WHOOP. "WHOOP Coach actually delivers on it. With the launch of WHOOP Coach, we're now offering on-demand, personalized health and fitness coaching. This is the first of its kind and it will transform our members' relationship with their data."

How WHOOP Coach turns your data into personalized guidance

WHOOP Coach was developed to reimagine how you receive recommendations and guidance. It uses OpenAI's deep learning technology to identify patterns in your data and produce instant, conversational responses to your questions.

- Proprietary algorithms: Analyzes connections between your Recovery, Strain, Sleep, and Stress data.
- Performance science: Incorporates the latest research for credible, effective advice.
- Your personal data: Uses your unique biometrics and Journal inputs for truly individualized coaching.

"Integrating AI into the health and personal performance space can enable even more value from wearable technology," said Brad Lightcap, COO of OpenAI (and long-time WHOOP member). "WHOOP Coach is an exciting application of GPT-4, and we're eager to learn from WHOOP members on how our models are helping to unlock human performance."

WHOOP Coach is the only resource of its kind to offer distinct and unique responses based on your individual data. The more data you share on WHOOP, the more effective and pointed

I have a PR next month with a goal of running it in 27 minutes. Can you build me a training program? Or How can I maintain my fitness level with a newborn baby?

2. Insight into the unknown: WHOOP Coach sifts through thousands of your data points to identify why you're feeling the way you are—and exactly what affects performance.
 - Why am I so tired? Am I getting sick?
3. Expansive information on key performance topics: Better understand key performance science concepts and topics.
 - What is HRV? Or Why is Zone 2 training important?
4. Detailed comparisons to people like you: Understand what is normal or how you stack up to other members.
 - How does my sleep compare to other people my age?
5. Membership support: Get 24/7 assistance with your membership or account.
 - My WHOOP isn't charging—can you help?
